"SHEPHERD" FILM HAS A WELL CHOSEN CAST

Scenic Setting Is Not Equal to That of Harold Bell Wright's Book.

Harold Bell Wright's Ozark Mountain novel, "The Shepherd of the Hills," with its outdoor atmosphere and its simple plot, is well adapted to the screen. The film version, being shown at the American Theater this week, was produced under the direction of the author, who thrifly makes his own pictures, as he prints his own books. While the book is not regarded as belonging to the heavier type of literature, the film is of a serious sort, with little comedy relief.

The chief characters are very well portrayed. Jim Lane, as played by Lon Peck, could not be excelled as a Southwest Missouri hill type. Young Matt, represented by George McDaniels, is a giant like some of those seen in the ranks of the battalions from the Ozark region which paraded in St. Louis streets a few days ago. The part of Sammy Lane is taken by Catharine Curtis with such aptness that the onlooker is impatient to see her rid of the insignificant Ollie Stewart, and worthily joined to young Matt. The Shepherd, a city man of true culture, is well pictured by Harry C. Longdale. In contrast with the cast, the scenic setting lacks distinction. It is the familiar hill and woodland of many another Western film. One looks in vain for the grandeur of the James River bluffs, which are a part of the novel's foreground, or for the stone fences and ceaseless rocky outcroppings which gave name to Stone County, the scene of the story. Such an equipage as that shown in the picture could never have traveled over the roads of Stone or Taney County in pre-railroad days. The cave, which one of its explorers enters wearing a silk hat, is not scenically impressive.

The film, following the book with reasonable fullness, shows the coming of the Shepherd and his sojourn with the Matthews family, who did not know him to be the father of the artist who, years before, had loved their only daughter, and had gone away, leaving her to die in disgrace. The Shepherd becomes the tutor of Sammy Lane, daughter of a neighbor. She expects for a time to marry a youth who has gone to the city, and wishes to be a "sure-enough lady." By the time her course with the Shepherd is finished, she has sensibly concluded that her happiness lies nearer at hand, and that as she is now fit for the city, she is also fit for the hills.

The Bald Knobbers, who suspect the Shepherd of being an internal revenue agent, make trouble, and Jim Lane, Sammy's father, breaking away from his association with them, is killed, while the outlaw band is broken up by real revenue agents.

seems to fit nicely. It is the story of a series of deceptions starting with the prank of a homely cowboy who sends the picture of a handsome one to a girl whose name he has found written in a schoolbook. When she goes to the ranch to meet her supposed admirer there are many complications.

"When My Ship Comes In" is a young woman writer's search for literary material in out of the way places, and her rare luck in finding adventure wherever she goes. Much of the action is at sea and there are some fine marine views.

TWO COMEDIES ON BILL AT PERSHING THEATER

Florence Reed in "Today" and William Russell in "Brass Buttons" are the features which opened the week at the Pershing yesterday. Miss Reed's offering has a motive that has often been used on photodramas, but there is a certain freshness in the way it is here retold.

The story is that of a wife who has all that a woman might be supposed to want, but from a very surfeit of comforts she becomes restless and goes out in search of new dimensions, only to find in the end that her original condition could not have been improved upon.

SCOTT OFFERS BEST $3 BARGAIN EVER, IN OPERA

Baritone, in "L'Oracolo," Adds Another to Rogues' Gallery of Villains.

By RICHARD E. STOKES.

A BIG audience at the Odeon last night sheered in that frequent and rejuvenating treat, a new opera. It was Franco Leon's one-act shocker "L'Oracolo," in which Antonio Scotti, renowned character actor of the Metropolitan Opera Company, has added another notable portrait to his extensive rogues' gallery of operatic miscreants. Beside the presentments of such consummate scoundrels as his Don Giovanni, Iago and Baron Scarpia are now to be filed the sinister lineaments of Scotti's Chim-Fen. This heathen Chinese is a personage of dark ways, vain tricks and on occasion a smile that is childlike and bland; in addition, he is as murderous, as furtive and sinking, and as noisome as a rat.

"L'Oracolo," first produced at London in 1905, is based upon a melodrama of penny-dreadful thrills, "The Cat and the Cherub," by an American playwright, Chester B. Fernald. The play had its premiere 21 years ago. Scotti created the role of Chim-Fen in London, and was in the cast that produced the opera for the first time in America, at the Metropolitan four years ago. Previous to the present tour of Signor Scotti and his company, "L'Oracolo" had been heard in this country only in New York, Boston and Philadelphia.

Contemporary Italian composers, in quest of the sanguinary plots at present in vogue, have more than once had recourse to American writers—for instance, in Puccini's "Madama Butterfly" and "La Fanciulla del West." In the latter and in "L'Oracolo" the scene is even laid in the United States, the milieu of "L'Oracolo" being Hatcher Row in San Francisco's Chinatown before the fire. If American composers do not bestir themselves, the "great American opera" will be written by an Italian.

Opera Piquantly Novel.

The instant the curtain ascended the audience understood, with a thrill of pleasure, that something not only new but piquantly different was in store. Without a fellow in opera was the setting designed for the production by James Fox, scenic artist at the Metropolitan. Here was "Hop Alley" to the life, with shops of gorgeous signs cheek by jowl with loathsome hovels, a debris of refuse festering in the street, a line of slatternly washing stretched aloft, a gambling hell and opium den, a throng of actors in Chinese costumes, quaint banners and a dragon borne in procession on New Year's day, magical incantations, gibbering hucksters, a fortune teller with the implements of sorcery—all these created an emanation at once repellent and fascinating. Alien intrusions from the outside world—the distant roar of foghorns from San Francisco Bay, and two "foreign devils," a policeman and a lamplighter—were like noises and persons sensed in a dream.

In the midst of such a mise-en-scene, the reptilian Chim-Fen pursues a crazy plot. A beggar despite his villainy, he is anxious to wed the fortune of the beautiful Ah-Yoe, niece of the wealthy merchant, Hoo-Tsin. His overtures being repulsed in contempt by the merchant, Chim-Fen kidnaps the latter's little son, with the intention of exacting the hand of Ah-Yoe in marriage. The price for restoring the boy, but Win-San-Lay, lover of Ah-Yoe and son of the venerable sage and magician of the quarter, Win-Shee, traces the lad to Chim-Fen's cellar, and is dispatched by that worthy with a hatchet. The aged Win-Shee, a practical as well as a theoretical moralist, executes justice upon his son's assassin by putting him to death with his own hand.

A Terrifying Crisis.

It is impracticable to rehearse the innumerable details of portraiture which Signor Scotti, a veteran artist, lavished upon his impersonation of Chim-Fen—the black-garbed, greasy figure, the shambling hips and scuffling feet, the drug-ravaged visage and poisonous eyes, the bearing at once of effrontery and cowardice. But as one instance of his histrionic power may be cited his demeanor when the suspicious and deadly glare of Win-Shee transfixes him, in the midst of the crowd that has discovered the body of Win-San-Lay. Chim-Fen at first endures the inquisition with insolent hardihood, and cries louder than anyone for vengeance upon the murderer. But his nervous system is too fragile to support the strain of his villainy; a fit of violent trembling seizes him

Liberty Taken With Plot.

Two numbers, however, of remarkable beauty and dramatic force, were noted. The first was a splendid love-duet sung by Ah-Yoe and Win-San-Lay; the second was the sonorous hymn in which Win-Shee intoned an imprecation to the gods, while the chorus uttered awesome responses. Both were worthy of the bursts of applause that followed.

Probably never before in this city has an opera won the demonstration which followed the close of "L'Oracolo." It continued for many minutes, while the curtain soared and fell repeatedly, revealing first all the principals and then each in turn. Director Carlo Peroni and the orchestra, mostly musicians from the Metropolitan, justly shared in the ovation.

But at the end of the opera there was an unjustifiable alteration in the plot for which admirers of Signor Scotti's artistic sagacity were sorely prepared. Both in the libretto and in the original play the patriarchal Win-Shee, after killing Chim-Fen, hears a policeman approaching. He hastily props up the body beside him and pretends to converse with it until the notion of the law has passed. Then he lights his pipe, and the body tumbles to the ground.

Those familiar with the story could scarcely believe their eyes last night when Hoo-Tsin, abruptly appeared and sang the arduous which should have been delivered by Win-Shee, as a last fine touch of Oriental phlegm. The actor taking the part of Win-Shee explained that as Scotti weighs 180 pounds, the exertion of raising him from the ground and holding him erect would leave the singer without sufficient breath to finish his part.

"Cavalleria Rusticana" Follows.

With the exception of this episode, the honors for singing and acting, next to Scotti, went to Charles Gallagher, as Win-Shee. His bass voice, which is both powerful and rich, was heard to fine advantage, and he made a majestic figure of a sage. Franco Peralta, as Ah-Yoe, sang admirably, especially in the duet, but was far from affording an illusion of a Chinese maiden. She gesticulated as strenuously as if she had been playing Aida. Orville Harrold, who was Win-San-Lay, scarcely sings as excellently as he did on his last appearance here several years ago. The parts of Hoo-Tsin and of Hwa-Qua, a nursemaid, were acceptably taken by Louis d'Angelo and Mary Kane. D'Angelo did not utter the final passage of the opera as impressively as was desired; after all, it was not his part but Gallagher's.

Following "L'Oracolo" came a capital production of "Cavalleria Rusticana," with Miss Peralta as Santuzza, Francis Maciennan as Turiddu, Miss Kent as Mamma Lucia, Milo Pico as Alfio and Jeanne Gordon as Lola. It would be difficult to better Pico's impersonation of the irascible carter, and it is rare that in the cast of this opera there are two such personable and talented young heroines as Miss Peralta and Miss Gordon. It was extraordinary how Miss Gordon, who was only a few moments on the stage and had but a few notes to sing, contrived to leave so powerful an impression. Maciennan's voice was very remarkable, but his acting was competent.

The company concludes its visit with "Madame Butterfly," tonight. Scotti singing the part of Sharpless. From the sample shown last night, one wishes the engagement might continue several weeks. It is the best bargain in opera at $3 a seat that St. Louis has ever enjoyed.

TRAVEL AND DREAM PLAY ON THE LIBERTY BILL

In London with Burton Holmes, in Paris with a Liberty Pictorial, in New York with the Seventy-seventh Division, and, last and best of all, in St. Louis with the 15th, Sunday night's audience at the Liberty Theater had a sightseeing trip that made them forget their disappointment at finding an old Charlie Chaplin picture being exploited under a new name. "The Mad Lover," starring Robert Warwick and Elaine Hammerstein, made up for the Chaplin fizzle.

In an amateur production of Othello, James Hyde, a bridegroom, played by Warwick, becomes jealous of his bride, who has been cast in the role of Desdemona. As the Moor of Venice, Hyde smothered his wife to death but later awakes to find that he has only been dreaming. The picture is well staged.

"O! YOU WOMEN" CLEVER FILM FARCE

Farce is coming into its own on the screen, and there have been few better examples of it than "O! You Women," with Ernest Truex and Louise Huff in the leading roles, which opened the week at the Kings Theater yesterday.

This photoplay was written by John Emerson and Anita Loos, who formerly furnished scenarios for the best of the Douglas Fairbanks pictures.

The story is a sort of travesty on woman suffrage, but is in no way offensive, especially as women have won the suffrage and can afford to be generous to those who see a gleam of humor in the accomplishment.

TWO GOOD PHOTOPLAYS AT WEST END LYRIC

A good double bill is offered at the West End Lyric, the features being Lila Lee in "Rustling a Bride" and Jane Grey in "When My Ship Comes In," a film version of a Belasco play. In "Rustling a Bride" Miss Lee is more fortunately cast than in several of her earlier pictures. This one has a Western setting into which she

PRESBYTERIAN COUNCIL WILL MEET TONIGHT

Home Mission Body's Session to Precede Opening of General Assembly Thursday.

The Home Mission Council of the Presbyterian Church, U. S. A., will meet tonight at the Marquette Hotel, its session being the first of the preliminary gatherings in connection with the Presbyterian General Assembly, which opens Thursday morning in the Odeon.

The Home Mission Council will be attended by representatives of the 25 white synods of the church, making, with the officials of mission boards, an expected attendance of more than 40. The Rev. Dr. John A. Marquette of New York is chairman of the meeting, and reports from all the fields of home mission activity will be received.

A conference on evangelism is to be held tomorrow, and the Committee on Vacancy and Supply will be in session Wednesday. The New Era Committee will also meet Wednesday, to consider its plan for the general strengthening of church finances and the upbuilding of the church's social work.

Moderator to Be Chosen. The Rev. J. Frank Smith, retiring moderator, will preach the opening sermon Thursday morning at the Odeon, and will preside at the communion service at noon. For this communion, which is to be on the modern individual cup plan, elaborate preparations have been made.

The election of a new moderator is scheduled for the afternoon. William Jennings Bryan is considered a candidate for this position, and a number of prominent clergymen will be nominated. A reception in honor of the newly elected moderator will be held Thursday night at the Planters Hotel.

Delegates will have an automobile ride Saturday afternoon, cars being contributed by owners in all the leading Protestant churches of the city. Saturday night a men's dinner in the Armory will be addressed by Vice President Marshall and the Rev. John Timothy Stone of Chicago. A meeting in behalf of the Boy Scouts will be held Saturday night at the Odeon, with Vice President Marshall and United States Senator Spencer as speakers.

The visiting ministers will fill the pulpits not only of the Presbyterian churches, but of most of the Protestant churches, next Sunday morning and evening. The sessions of the Assembly will continue through Friday of next week.

ANTI-DRY PETITIONS BEING CIRCULATED IN CITY

Voters Asked to Sign for a Referendum on the Adoption of National Prohibition Amendment.

The circulation of 25,000 blanks for voters' signatures asking for a referendum on the adoption of the national prohibition amendment by the Missouri Legislature was begun today under the auspices of the Tenth Ward Improvement Association. The petitions will be circulated in St. Louis and all of the counties of the state.

In beginning the movement, the Tenth Ward Association declares it has the support of virtually every labor and civic organization in St. Louis and has caused a meeting of representatives of those organizations for Sunday in Fountain Hall, Broadway and Chippewa street, at which time a statement for indorsement will be presented.

The statement will declare that the action of the Missouri Legislature was contrary to the wishes of the majority of voters of the State and an infringement upon their rights.

A. H. BROWN'S SETTLEMENT OFFER APPROVED BY COURT

Majority of Creditors Have Agreed to Take 40 Cents on

The offer of Alexander H. Brown, head of the defunct brokerage firm of A. H. Brown & Co., to settle with the firm's creditors for 40 cents on the dollar, was approved by Judge John C. Pollard in the United States District Court today, on the recommendation of Walter D. Coles, referee in bankruptcy.

The firm's obligations were about $550,000, and 40 per cent of this sum, or $220,000, has been deposited with the St. Louis Union Bank as trustee. A majority of the creditors have agreed to the terms of settlement.

PRESIDENT IN A CONFERENCE

Receives Clemenceau, Balfour and Venizelos.

PARIS, May 12.—President Wilson intended to spend Sunday in the country, but the French Premier, M. Clemenceau, the British Foreign Secretary, Arthur J. Balfour, and Premier Venizelos of Greece, called at noon and conferred with him. It is understood that the discussion related to Greek affairs which will soon be taken up with the Turkish and Bulgarian treaties.

In the afternoon the President went on an extended automobile trip. During the first four months of 1919 the Post-Dispatch printed 25,648 Automobile "Wants"—190 more than the FOUR other St. Louis newspapers combined.

One Woman to Another

By Marjorie Wayne

"Isn't it wonderful how one can learn something new all the time?" said Evelyn Grant as she surveyed the tip of her shoe reflectively.

"Jerry," laughed Grace Skilton, "whatever called forth that piece of wisdom? Did you think it out all by yourself, dear, or did someone tell you?"

"I'm serious," frowned Evelyn, "I was thinking of something I found out recently."

"And what did you find out recently?" asked Grace.

"Why," replied Evelyn, "Edna Merri told me about Amolin."

"Amolin?" questioned Grace.

"Yes. You know how hard it is always to keep fresh and wholesome personally?"

"I certainly do," interrupted Grace.

"But it is possible—with Amolin," said Evelyn, enthusiastically. "It's a perfectly wonderful discovery that positively destroys all odors from perspiration, other causes, know, because I've been using it ever since I heard about it. I use it after my bath, sprinkle it in my clothes, and keep it for all sorts of personal uses."

"Amolin is the personal deodorant powder," she continued, "and it is also an excellent for healing and preventing chafing. Amolin can be bought at all drug and department stores for 25c a can. And a double size tin, Write The Amolin Company, Ltd., N. J., for a free sample—ADV."

DR. REDDISH RETAINS LAWYER TO DEFEND HIM

Jerseyville Physician, Accused of Father's Murder, Visited in Jail by Son.

Dr. Horace Augustus Reddish, held at Jerseyville, Ill., without bail, charged with the murder of his father, Stephen M. Reddish, wealthy landowner, yesterday retained a lawyer to defend him, a course of action which he had persistently refused to take since his arrest more than a week ago. He employed a Jerseyville law firm, and G. G. Reardon, a member of it, held a long conference with him yesterday.

Reardon today declined to discuss the case, except to say that he had retained Dr. Reddish. Dr. Reddish has maintained that he is innocent of any connection with the murder, and declares he can prove he was in St. Louis when it was committed.

The authorities state they do not believe that Dr. Reddish alone is guilty of his father's death, and his relations with certain other persons are being investigated.

Hearing Delayed.

The question of a preliminary hearing for Dr. Reddish is delayed because of the condition of State's Attorney Hamilton's sister, who suffered a fractured skull in a fall down a flight of stairs last Wednesday and who has not regained consciousness. Hamilton's efforts in superintending the collection of evidence also are being hampered by his sister's injury.

Feldton, a village about 10 miles from Jerseyville, has proved a fertile source of rumors regarding the murder, as Stephen Reddish formerly lived there and owned a large quantity of land in that neighborhood, which he visited frequently. One of the residents of Feldton whom he is said to have visited is a woman who has a grown son residing in St. Louis. However, it is not believed that this fact is in any way connected with the murder.

Hubert, Dr. Reddish's 6-year-old son, visited his father in the Jerseyville jail yesterday. The two talked together for a considerable time, and finally the father, who is much attached to the boy, told him not to worry, as "daddy will be home soon."

Shortly before that Dr. Reddish had been given a hypodermic injection of morphine, to which he is an addict, and which he had demanded.

A Post-Dispatch reporter learned that Dr. Reddish had a considerable amount of money in the jail, and that he had offered it to officers and others whom he saw at the jail to get morphine for him.

BRAZILIAN JOURNALIST CALLS U. S. "PRUSSIA OF TOMORROW"

By the Associated Press.

RIO JANEIRO, Sunday, May 11.—An attack upon the United States is made by Madeiros de Albuquerque, generally considered one of the leading journalists of Brazil, in a long interview printed today in a Nolle-Albuquerque, who has just arrived from the United States, says:

"I return from the United States with much enthusiasm for England, Italy, France, Belgium, Japan and perhaps above all, Mexico."

He accuses the United States of attempting to revolutionize Mexico, and says that "Brazil is considered by the United States only as a possible future colony." He adds:

"The United States wants to obtain as part of the payment of the debt of France and England a bond for Brazil's debts to those powers. On the day this is realized Brazil will be sold to the United States, which on the first occasion we fail to meet the interest will do us as she has done to Central American nations."

Albuquerque belittles the part taken by the United States in the war, saying that the only American victory was the battle at St. Mihiel, which he says was "gained with English artillery and French aviation," and attacks the censorship, which he remarks has prevented these and other facts from becoming known. He attacks the Monroe Doctrine and President Wilson, ridiculing the President's activities in the peace congress. He concludes by saying: "The United States is undoubtedly the Prussia of tomorrow."

"Old Hickory"
—a Display

Atmosphere means much in helping one realize the full charm of anything.

We felt this particularly true of OLD HICKORY FURNITURE, and so last year we made our entire first floor as nearly as possible like the out-of-doors in order to display this splendid porch and garden furniture to the best advantage.

The exhibit was so unusual and interesting, so markedly successful in bringing out the beauties of old hickory, we have installed another scheme even more beautiful than last year's which we hope you will come and see. This will be well worth your time, even if Old Hickory is not on the list of your possible purchases.

We have everything in old Hickory from a tiny child's chair to a big garden house—swings, whole sets of porch furniture, garden settees, chairs and so on. They vary in style and pattern, but invariably are good-looking, sturdy, comfortable and inexpensive.

22 American Women Decorated. By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, May 12.—Twenty-two American women—doctors, nurses and motor drivers—composing the staff of the American Women's Hospital No. 1 at Luzancy, France, have been decorated by the French Government for their services in the war and in combating an epidemic following the armistice, according to word received here yesterday.

President Urges Nation to Aid in Boy Scout Work

Sets Aside, by Proclamation, Week Between June 8 and Flag Day for Effort in Behalf of Organization

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, May 12.—President Wilson, in a proclamation made public yesterday, recommended that the period beginning June 8 to Flag Day, June 14, be observed over the country as "Boy Scout week for the purpose of strengthening the work of the Boy Scouts of America." The President urges that in every community a citizens committee be organized to co-operate in carrying out a program "for extending the Boy Scout program to a larger proportion of American boyhood."

Under plans announced by James E. West, chief scout executive, a nation-wide campaign will be conducted for 1,000,000 associate members to act as scout masters, assistants and other leaders of the scout troops. The country will be divided into 12 districts, with headquarters for each at Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Cleveland, Richmond, Atlanta, Chicago, St. Louis, Minneapolis, Kansas City, Dallas and San Francisco.

Each district will be given a quota of associate members to enroll. President Wilson's proclamation, fixing the campaign week, follows: "By the President of the United States of America."

"A proclamation. The Boy Scouts of America have rendered notable service to the nation during the world war. They have done effective work in the Liberty Loan and War Savings campaigns, in discovering and reporting upon the black walnut supply, in co-operating with the Red Cross and other war work agencies, in acting as dispatch bearers for the Committee on Public Information, and in other important fields. The Boy Scouts have not only demonstrated their worth to the nation, but have also materially contributed to a deep appreciation by the American people of the higher conception of patriotism and good citizenship."

"The Boy Scout movement should not only be preserved, but strengthened. It deserves the support of all public-spirited citizens. The available means for the Boy Scout movement have thus far sufficed the organization and training of only a small proportion of the boys of the country. There are approximately 10,000,000 boys in the United States, between the ages of 12 and 21. Of these only 375,000 are enrolled as members of the Boy Scouts of America. "America cannot acquit herself commensurately with her power and influence in the great world now facing her and the world unless the boys of America are given better opportunities than heretofore to prepare themselves for the responsibilities of citizenship."

"Every nation depends for its future upon the proper training and development of its youth. The American boy must have the best training and discipline our great democracy can provide if America is to maintain her ideals, her standards and her influence in the world."

"The plan, therefore, for a Boy Scout week, during which a universal appeal will be made to all Americans to supply the means to put the Boy Scouts of America in a position to carry forward effectively and continuously the splendid work they are doing for the youth of America, should have the unreserved support of the nation."

Recommends Organization Plan. "Therefore I, Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States of America, do hereby recommend that the period beginning Sunday, June 8, to Flag day, June 14, be observed as Boy Scout week throughout the United States for the purpose of strengthening the work of the Boy Scouts of America."

"I earnestly recommend that, in every community, a citizens' committee, under the leadership of a national citizens' committee, be organized to co-operate in carrying out a program for a definite recognition of the effective services rendered by the Boy Scouts of America; for a survey of the facts relating to the boyhood of each community, in order that with the co-operation of churches, schools and other organizations, definitely engaged in work for boys, adequate provision may be made for extending the Boy Scout program to a larger proportion of American boyhood."

"The Boy Scout movement offers unusual opportunity for volunteer service. It needs men to act as committeemen and as leaders of groups of boys. I hope that all who can will enlist for such personal service, enrolled as associate members and give all possible financial assistance to this worthy organization of American boyhood. Anything that is done to increase the effectiveness of the Boy Scouts of America will be a genuine contribution to the welfare of the nation."

"In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed."

"Done this first day of May in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and eight, and of the independence of the United States of America, the one hundred and forty-third."

"WOODROW WILSON," By the President, ROBERT LANSING, Secretary of State.

METHODIST BISHOPS DELAY ADJOURNMENT

College Decides to Remain Over Until Tomorrow for Assignments for Conferences.

The College of Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, which has been holding sessions in St. Louis for a past week, will not adjourn today as was at first announced, but will continue its meetings until tomorrow afternoon, when the assignment of territory for the holding of the annual conferences will be given out.

The church is divided into a number of conferences and the bishops are in reality general superintendents, not having stated territory, but each year taking charge of the sessions of several conferences, and the particular conference districts each bishop will have is determined by the college.

Formerly it was the custom to shift the district of each bishop annually, but in keeping with a resolution of last year's General Conference, which is held every four years, it will probably be that the bishops will retain the same districts for four years.

A cable from President Wilson in Paris was read at all the Southern Methodist churches in St. Louis yesterday, in which the President expressed his interest in the national campaign of the church for the raising of a $35,000,000 fund for the church's work. The message was addressed to Dr. M. B. Beauchamp, director of the General Missionary Centenary, at Nashville, Tenn.

The members of the church in St. Louis have a quota of $200,000 as their subscription, with five years to pay. A military formation has been devised, with the 24 churches of the city and county each having a director or captain.

The directors have as their commanding officers a staff composed of Thomas L. Mauldin, Robert W. Brooks, Louis Roeger and Richard Moore Sr. This staff will co-operate with the Rev. Dr. C. W. Tadlock, the presiding elder, and the Rev. Dr. R. L. Russell, secretary of the conference.

The BIRDS of BIRDVILLE

Who doesn't love birds? Who is not charmed by our little feathered friends' songs of gladness, their intimate calls at evening or their choirlike voices as they burst into song at daybreak? Wouldn't you like to know more about them? It is free to you.

The "Birds of Birdville" is one of the most delightful and interesting pictorial collections of native and foreign birds. These little spirits of the air have been faithfully reproduced, and the beautiful colors of their plumage have been brought out in exact detail in the pictures.

These pictures are real works of art and will delight the naturalist who can spend days in the forest, the business man who has only an occasional hour in the woods, or the man or woman whose sole acquaintance with birds is made in the city parks. Placed in the hands of a boy or girl, they will inculcate an imperishable love of Nature and Nature's winged children.

The McKinney Bakery of St. Louis has obtained this beautiful collection which contains a picked selection of 48 bird subjects. They show no advertising and will be given free to users of BUTTER-NUT Bread. Just ask your grocer for BUTTER-NUT Bread; one of the series of birds is wrapped with each loaf of the well-known

BUTTER-NUT BREAD

In asking you to buy BUTTER-NUT Bread we are not asking you to try some new product. It is now a great favorite in many homes. The constant desire on our part to make better bread and the fondness of St. Louis families for good, appetizing, wholesome bread has caused it to be very popular.

BUTTER-NUT Bread is made right! From the time the flour first starts on its way until it becomes a perfect loaf, the utmost efforts of science and baker's art are used to obtain the delicious flavor, the velvety texture and the very goodness of BUTTER-NUT bread.

The flour used in BUTTER-NUT Bread is of the highest quality obtainable. Filtered water, granulated snow-white cane sugar, super-pure white hard, crystal salt, the very purest of milk and real compressed yeast combine to make BUTTER-NUT Bread rival the best qualities of the homemade loaves.

BUTTER-NUT Bread is baked in two sizes—10c and 15c. Be sure to ask for "BUTTER-NUT"—it's a guarantee of quality. And, remember, wrapped with each loaf is one of the series of beautiful birds, which you will find much interest and instruction in collecting.

U. S. TO ESTABLISH AN "EPIDEMIC INDEX"

Influenza Outbreak Causes Health Department to Prepare for Future Contingencies.

Special Correspondence of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, May 12.—As a result of the recent influenza epidemic, the United States Public Health Service is preparing to establish, at a cost of half a million dollars annually, a national system to enable the health authorities to act quickly on the appearance of an epidemic in any part of the country.

The work will be under the direction of the interstate quarantine division of the service, which plans to collect and centralize records in such a way that any rise in the communicable disease rate of a locality will at once sound an alarm signal to the central office. Steps can then be taken to combat the disease at the start with the latest methods of prevention and eradication.

Dr. Allen J. McLaughlin, First Assistant Surgeon-General, who will supervise the work, believes that it will result in the saving of many thousands of lives annually.

How the System Will Work.
The new system will give health officials a weekly morbidity picture of health conditions in the United States, whereas at present they have, except from a few states, only a picture of graves. The country has been mapped into 15 sections and within a month an officer will be sent into each to start the work. In time there will be an officer for each state. If a state has already a system of collecting morbidity reports, it will be a simple matter for the officer to scan these reports and submit a weekly statement to the Washington headquarters.

In states where there is no such system in operation, the officer will install his own. His first step will be to request city and town boards of health to co-operate with him by submitting weekly reports. The expense will be small. The officer will have the franking privilege and will enclose franked cards or envelopes for replies.

An "Epidemic Index."
When the system is in full working order, the health service at Washington will have at all times a complete epidemic index of the country. If the officer detailed to Missouri, for example, should notice in going over the weekly reports from St. Louis, a marked rise in the typhoid death rate, he would know that something was wrong and would take appropriate measures in co-operation with the state and city authorities.

All the states have shown themselves eager to co-operate with the National Government in the new undertaking. When it was decided to appoint 15 officers, letters were sent to officials in each state, asking whether they wanted their state included in the first assignment. The reply was, uniformly, "yes."

With this information in hand, the Public Health Service asked Congress for an appropriation of $500,000, but the session ended without the money having been voted. The service will start the work with funds that it has on hand and will go before Congress again after the system has been given a good trial.

WOMAN FOUND BOUND AT HOME. TELLS OF NEGRO BURGLAR
Maple Avenue Resident Says Intruder Threatened Her With Revolver.

Detectives are investigating a report of a burglary made by Mrs. McCarthy, 25 years old, 2756 Maple avenue, wife of Walter McCarthy, a traveling salesman. She was found lying unconscious on the floor with a towel around her head and her hands tied behind her back with a towel when William Brennan, grocer at 954 Goodfellow avenue, owner of the apartment, reached her home at 8:30 p. m. Saturday, in response to a telephone message that Mrs. McCarthy had been bound and gagged.

Mrs. McCarthy told the detectives that after a negro burglar, whom she had encountered in the dining room, had knocked her down with a stick, she chased him into the kitchen and threw a vase at him. He then fired a shot, she said, and threatened to shoot her if she made an outcry. He took $16 from a buffet drawer, she said, and then ordered her into the bathroom, where he tied her.

BABY FOUND IN A BOX
No Ventilation for Little One When Discovered in Yard.

Police are seeking to trace the parents of 2-weeks-old baby girl found tied in an unventilated box and left in a front yard at 1105 Madison street last night.

Frederick Meyer, 915 Madison street, and Dennis Ford, 2021 North Broadway, found the baby when they investigated cries coming from the yard at 11 p. m. while they were on their way home. The lid of the box was fastened on tightly, they reported, and tied with twine.

The babe was fully dressed in white material of good texture and wrapped in a white blanket. The box apparently had been dropped over the fence into the yard, police say. The child was taken to the city hospital.

3 PERSONS DROWN, ONE IN THE MERAMEC

Two Men Go Down With Boat in Cahokia Creek—Dog Saves Woman in Party.

While on outings yesterday two men were drowned in Cahokia Creek, near East St. Louis, and a youth lost his life in the Meramec River, near Meramec Park. The wife of one of the men drowned in Cahokia Creek was saved from drowning by her collie dog.

Baldemero Rodriguez, 25 years old, of Fairmount City, Ill., four miles north of East St. Louis, a laborer, and his wife, Florence, 21, were fishing in the afternoon from the bank of Cahokia Creek, when John Dedora, 26, of Fairmount City, laborer, approached in a crude rowboat. Mr. and Mrs. Rodriguez asked Dedora to ferry them across the stream, and when the boat reached midstream it sank.

Dog Saves Woman.
Dedora seized Rodriguez, the only one of the party who could swim, and both drowned. The dog, which had been in the boat, seized Mrs. Rodriguez's dress and assisted in holding her head above water while she struggled to the bank.

The bodies of the two men were recovered and taken to an Erie St. Louis undertaking establishment, where an inquest will be held.

William A. Walker, 19 years old, son of Harry A. Walker, secretary of the Cadillac Automobile Co., Big Bend and Sunnington roads, Oakland, St. Louis County, was in a canoe with Oscar Jekel, son of A. A. Jekel of Kirkwood, at 4 p. m. on the Meramec, a mile west of Meramec Highlands, when the craft upset.

Walker, who was a strong swimmer, according to Jekel, started to swim to shore, but suddenly sank when about 19 feet from the bank. Jekel held to the canoe until rescued by two fishermen. Walker's body was not recovered. He was employed as a clerk by the Frisco Railroad. He was a graduate of the Principia School, Page boulevard and Bell avenue.

POLICE USE LADDER IN RAID; HOLD 13 ON GAMBLING CHARGE

Enter Rock Springs Turner Hall Through Second-Story Window Following Tip.

Thirteen men were arrested at the Rock Springs Turner Hall, Boyle and Chouteau avenues, yesterday morning and held at the Magnolia Avenue Police Station "suspected of gambling," following a tip from a man and woman who called at the station at 2 a. m. yesterday and reported that a gambling game was in progress at the hall.

A squad of policemen who climbed a ladder and entered a second-story window after they had been denied admission found the men seated about two tables, with a deck of cards on each. No money or chips were found on the tables.

On March 22 the managers of the hall filed a petition seeking an injunction restraining the police from raiding the hall. The injunction proceedings were dismissed after the police and the hall managers settled the matter out of court by an agreement that lockers were to be installed in the club and the police were to be admitted at any time to make such inspection as they deemed necessary. No further raids occurred at the hall until yesterday, when the police were told of the gambling game which was said to be in progress.

30 U. S. PATHOLOGISTS CONFER HERE ON NEW WHEAT DISEASES

"Flag Smut" and "Take All." Recently Developed in Madison County, Ill. Subject of Study.

A conference is being held at the Jefferson Hotel today at which 30 pathologists, representing every wheat producing state in the United States, are discussing the recent discovery of "take-all" and "flag-smut," two Australian diseases which have developed in Madison County, Ill. wheat fields, north of Granite City. Symptoms of the disease are reported by the Government as having been found in Northern Illinois, Missouri and Indiana, and possibly along the Pacific Coast.

Yesterday the State of Illinois, through the State Experiment School, took over a tract of land belonging to Louis S. Oechig, just north of Granite City, where the diseases were first discovered in this country, and will use it for experimental purposes for the next two years. Corn and oat crops, substituted for wheat, will kill the disease in from two to five years, it is said.

Pathologists and county farm advisers of Illinois have had several meetings and are being assisted in their investigations by Dr. C. E. Leighty, agronomist in wheat for the United States Department of Agriculture, who arrived at Edwardsville yesterday.

The work to be mapped out at today's conference will be in charge of Dr. H. G. Johnson, pathologist of plant diseases, of Washington. He said that the Government is anxious to learn how and where the disease originated in this country. It was possibly due to some farmer planting a handful of Australian wheat for experimental purposes, he said.

GEN. PERSHING PAYS VISIT TO OUR MEN IN OCCUPIED GERMANY

It is Expected That This Will be the Commander's Last Trip to Germany.

By the Associated Press. COBLENZ, Saturday, May 10.—Gen. Pershing, Commander in Chief of the American expeditionary forces, arrived in Coblenz today for what may be his last official visit to the American occupation area. He will arrange with Lieutenant-General Hunter Liggett, final plans for the complete withdrawal of the American forces as decided upon some three weeks ago.

Gen. Pershing confirmed the Washington announcement that all, or at least nearly all, of the Americans would be out of France and Germany by Sept. 1. He announced that plans for the withdrawal of troops from the occupied zone were even further advanced than general headquarters had anticipated. Assuming that the Germans will sign the peace treaty the troops withdrawal from the Rhineland will go forward with a rush. Gen. Pershing will take luncheon with Gen. Mangin at French headquarters and on Monday he will visit Gen. Sir William R. Robertson, Commander of the British army of occupation.

THINKS "EFFICIENCY BURGLAR" STOLE WHISKY; OFFERS REWARD

Head of Liquor Firm Says He is Anxious to Effect An Agreement to Protect His Business.

On the presumption that the "efficiency" burglar, with his well-known eye for new business, has taken advantage of the approaching dry spell to branch out from jewelry into whisky, officers of the Schroeder Wine and Liquor Co., 9 North Sixth street, have advertised in the Post-Dispatch that a $150 reward will be paid for the recovery of 21 cases of whisky and some other liquor, stolen from their warehouse, 714 North Main street, Friday morning.

J. C. Schroeder, the president, feels he has good reason to hope that it is the "efficiency" burglar in his case, because of the neatness and workmanship displayed in the job, and the fact that it was the fourth time it had happened since March 4. The four professional calls have cost him about $3500, Schroeder says.

HEARING ON W. F. MORRISON'S SANITY DISMISSED BY JUDGE

Son Says Drink Caused Father's Condition—Will Stay in Sanitarium to July 15.

The hearing into the sanity of Walter F. Morrison Sr., 1538 Irving avenue, Wellston, former superintendent for Curtis & Co. Manufacturing Co., was dismissed today in Probate Court in Clayton upon the statement of Morrison's son, Walter F. Morrison, 5874 Theodosia avenue, that he had learned that his father's condition was due to drink. Judge Hodgen telephoned the Glenwood Sanitarium near Glendale and was informed by physicians that such was the fact. Upon obtaining Morrison's promise to voluntarily remain there until July 15, he dismissed the hearing. The information upon which the hearing was called stated that Morrison's estate was valued at more than $50,000 and that he was incapable of managing it.

Their Medicine Chest for 20 Years

IT is characteristic of folks after they pass the allotted "three score years and ten" to look back over the days that are gone and thoughtfully live them again. I find myself, at seventy-one, frequently drifting back a quarter of a century, when I see myself in the little drug store I owned at Bolivar, Mo., making and selling a vegetable compound to my friends and customers—what was then known only as Dr. Lewis' Medicine for Stomach, Liver and Bowel Complaints. For many years while I was perfecting my formula I studied and investigated the laxatives and cathartics on the market and became convinced that their main fault was not that they did not act on the bowels, but that their action was too violent and drastic, and upset the system of the user; which was due to the fact that they were not thorough enough in their action, some simply acting on the upper or small intestine, while others would act only on the lower or large intestine, and that they almost invariably produced a habit requiring augmented doses. I believed that a preparation to produce the best effect must first tone the liver, then act on the stomach and entire alimentary system. If this was accomplished the medicine would produce a mild, but thorough elimination of the waste without the usual sickening sensations and make the user feel better at once.

After experimenting with hundreds of different compounds, I at last perfected the formula that is now known as Nature's Remedy, which I truly believe goes further and does more than any laxative on the market today. The thousands of letters from users have convinced me I was right, and that the use of Nature's Remedy as a family medicine, even though he may have used it for twenty-five years, never has to increase the dose.

My knowledge of medicine and the results of its use in my own family, and among my friends, before I ever offered it for sale, caused me to have great faith in Nature's Remedy from the very first.

And now as I find myself nearing the age when I must bow to the inevitable and go to another life, my greatest pleasure is to sit each day and read the letters that each mail brings from people as old as I, who tell of having used Nature's Remedy for ten, fifteen and twenty years, and how they and their children and grandchildren have been benefited by it. It is a comforting thought, my friends, for a man at my age to feel that aside from his own success, he has done something for his fellow man. My greatest satisfaction, my greatest happiness today, is the knowledge that tonight more than one million people will take a Nature's Remedy (S.R. Tablet) and will be better, healthier, happier people for it. I hope you will be one of them.

KELLY-SPRINGFIELD CATERPILLAR TIRES

EVEN on level roads, most heavy trucks are running up hill. When the ordinary solid tire revolves, the rubber is pushed forward by the weight and traction and is banked up into a "rubber wave" which the wheel has to climb. The Kelly Caterpillar has toes with side air pockets between, which give the rubber room to spread, thus eliminating the "rubber wave."

Hundreds of truck owners testify that the Caterpillar gives more mileage per tire, uses less gasoline per mile and stands up better under severe service, than any other tire they have used.

5,000 EXPECTED AT CONDUCTORS' MEETING

Question of Affiliation With A. F. of L. One of Those to Come Before Sessions Here.

The question of becoming affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, and the wage awards granted the railroad men working under Government control, together with the application of these awards, will be among the most important matters to be considered at the triennial convention of the Order of Railway Conductors, which began this afternoon in the Arcadia Building, 3517 Olive street.

The convention will be in session until June 5, and perhaps longer. It was said this morning at the Planters Hotel, where headquarters have been established.

Seven hundred delegates and the same number of alternates have been appointed to represent employees of every railroad division in the United States and Canada. A. B. Garretson, president of the Order of Railway Conductors, will preside at the sessions of the convention. It is expected that fully 5,000 delegates and visitors will attend the sessions at various times.

Officers of the order will be elected at this meeting. Garretson, who has been an officer of the order for 23 years, will not be a candidate for re-election because of his health.

Two of the vice presidents of the organization, E. P. Curtis of Smithville, Tex., and L. E. Sheppard of Cedar Rapids, Ia., are candidates for his place.

Garretson is one of the officers of the "Big Four" who represented all railroad crafts and organizations before Congress when higher wages were sought by railroad employees.

The engineers' organization is the only one of the "Big Four" represented at this time which since has become affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, delegates to the convention said today, and efforts will be made to have the Order of Railway Conductors become affiliated.

Opposition to this movement apparently has not developed, several delegates said.

No question of higher wages will be discussed except as it applies to the awards already made and the application of these awards. Some changes in the constitution and by-laws of the order are anticipated by the delegates.

W. L. Heath, secretary of publicity for the convention, believes a majority of the delegates will be found to favor supervision by the Government of private control of the railroads. "There has been some dissatisfaction with the manner in which the roads have been conducted in recent months," he said, "but we all realize, of course, that the one thought of those in charge was to expedite the war work and with a return to normal conditions this dissatisfaction doubtless will disappear."

Delegates to the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Order of Railway Conductors also have opened headquarters at the Planters Hotel for their convention, which opens in connection with that of the latter order. Sessions of the Auxiliary Order, however, will be held at the American Annex. Mrs. J. H. Moore, president, of Toledo, O., will preside. There are 350 delegates and the same number of alternates registered for this meeting.

A public reception by the Order of Railway Conductors will be held at the Schubert-Jefferson Theater to-night, when Mayor Kiel, Senator Spencer and Postmaster Selph will speak. Responses will be made by Garretson and Mrs. Moore.

Order of Railroad Telegraphers Begins Biennial Convention
The Order of Railroad Telegraphers, whose international headquarters are in St. Louis, began their twelfth biennial convention at the Cave Dancing Academy, Olive street and Ewing avenue, today. The convention will be in session for two weeks. There will be 652 delegates, representing 75,000 members, in attendance.

This representation will include telegraphers, train dispatchers, telephone operators, station agents and signal and towermen employed on railroads in the United States and Canada.

H. B. Perham of 1378 Montclair avenue is president of the organization and will preside at all sessions of the convention. Headquarters for the delegates have been established at the Warwick Hotel.

Officers of the organization, besides President Perham, are: C. B. Rawlins, grand secretary and treasurer; W. T. Brown, first vice president; T. M. Pierson, second vice president; G. D. Robertson, third vice president; J. J. Dermody, fourth vice president; H. J. Manion, fifth vice president. Directors—J. F. Miller, chairman; B. E. Nason, secretary; George O. Forbes, G. E. Soyester, H. G. Alexander.

Firestone Reduces Tire Prices for Car Owners and Truck Owners

The rubber supply has become readjusted and stabilized. A general reduction in tire prices is bound to come. There should be no delay about this—and the drop in prices should be a decided drop, particularly on truck tires.

Firestone Prices are Down Now Effective Today
Be Guided in Your Tire Buying Accordingly

Because never before have Firestone Tires been so decidedly better than others as they now are.

Car owners from coast to coast, for the past year have taken their hats off to Firestone over the improved Gray Sidewall Fabric Tire.

And the latest Firestone Cord, built to the new standard oversize, with extra heavy non-skid tread, is upsetting all records made by any other tire of any type.

As for truck tires—the fact that over half the truck tonnage of America is carried on Firestones proves unquestioned superiority in that line.

So, whether you want tires for your passenger car or your trucks, call up the Firestone dealer and get set right on prices.

The new prices give greater assurance than ever that Firestone means—Most Miles per Dollar.

RIFLE CASH REGISTER;

Attempt to Open Strong Box of Seventh Street Marble
Co. Frustrated by Man Attracted by Noise.

Four armed men wearing handkerchiefs tied over the lower portions of their face entered the Kingsbury pharmacy, a branch postoffice conducted by Henry Vozes at 5969 Kingsbury boulevard, at 10:25 o'clock last night and ordered the clerk, Walter H. Fruehauf, 419 De Baliviere avenue, and the negro porter, Russell Jones, into an anteroom.

After rifling the cash register and taking $15, the robbers ordered Fruehauf to give them the combination of the safe. The numbers he gave failed to work the combination and they then compelled him to open the door for them. They took $25 from the safe. They also took Fruehauf's watch. Fruehauf said the robbers did not appear to be more than 20 years old.

Other Robbers Scared Away.

Four safe robbers at work on the strong box in the office of the Vermont Marble Co., 1115 South Seventh street, were interrupted by Raymond Ferree, 926A Morrison avenue, at 7 p. m., when Ferree sought the source of the boiler-factory noise he heard in the office as he went to a stable at the rear to water his horses.

Peering through a window, he saw the men pounding away at the safe with sledge hammers. About that time they saw him and ran out the front door. Inside the office policemen found later two sledge hammers and four chisels taken from the marble company's yards and used by the robbers in their efforts to open the safe. The combination and hinges had been knocked off. Three desks in the office were broken open. Policemen were told the safe contained nothing of value.

William H. Kanigee, Wichita, Kan., reported he had been robbed of $11.50 and his watch by two confidence men, one of whom lured him from the midway at Union Station to meet the second man, while he was awaiting a train to take him to his home.

Get Cash, Bonds and War Stamps.
In the absence of the family, burglars broke into the home of William C. Engel, 5949 Washington boulevard, and stole $25 cash, two Liberty Bonds and $65 in War Savings Stamps.

Burglars who broke into six lumber offices in the vicinity of Main and North Market streets early yesterday obtained a few lead pencils for their trouble. In each of the offices crude attempts were made to open safes, but they were unsuccessful, except in one place where the safe had been left unlocked and where it contained only papers. The offices visited were the American Hardwood Co., Main and North Market streets; Wiggins Perry Co., same address; August J. Lang Hardwood Lumber Co., Main and Montgomery streets, safe left open, and papers scattered; Arkla Lumber Co., Main and North Market streets; Eppler-Meyer Lumber Co., Main and Warren streets, and the George Rathel Lumber Co., foot of Hall street.

"Truck Burglars" Also Busy.
"Truck burglars" visited the Seldmann Dry Goods Co., 1810 South Broadway, early yesterday, stealing $1800 worth of silk shirts, silk hosiery, ties, etc. Entrance was gained by breaking the bars on a rear window.

A purse snatcher robbed Mary Hoene, 1446 North Eleventh street, in front of her home at 5 p. m. A pocketbook torn from her hand contained two rosaries and 75 cents.

Automobiles stolen during the evening belonged to Samuel A. Carter, 8 Portland place; Benjamin Miller, 4552 Harris avenue; Edwin A. Carter, 1117 Olive street; Missouri Packing Co., East St. Louis, and Edward Delaplaine, 5578A Cabanne avenue. Carter's automobile was taken from King's highway and Washington boulevard while the family was attending church.

Fashions at the Capital

The Well Dressed Woman of Smart Society—What She Wears, the Time and the Place.

By Margaret Wade.

WASHINGTON, May 9. LITHOUGH officers of the army, navy and marine corps are still in service uniforms, maids and waitresses of smart society have abandoned all signs of wartime simplicity. Mrs. Larz Anderson, who as Miss Perkins of Boston, was a few years ago the greatest heiress Washington ever knew, occasionally appears in the blue gown and veil in which she served as a Red Cross helper in Belgium, but this is only when assisting in a Victory Loan rally or some other patriotic endeavor. Mrs. Anderson's uniform, it may be mentioned, is most becoming, with full round skirt and inches off the waist with close-fitting round waist, deep cuffs but rather narrow collar of sheerest organdie.

At the dinner dance, which she gave recently for the much enter-ained debutante, Miss Jane Story, Mrs. Anderson's gown was mauve satin embroidered in silver and crystals. Miss Story's gown on this occasion was a draped model of peach color chiffon over a foundation slip of the new shade known as Poch blue—a shade of the same blue in satin marked the normal waistline. It was an inch or more longer than the average debutante frock and was sleeveless.

Another extremely youthful belle yet formally presented to society, Miss Millicent Rogers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rogers, who is wearing a fascinating frock of white satin of the radium variety, which is draped, or rather hung, in very graceful lines suited to its youthful wearer.

There is great latitude in the length of the skirt, as Washington sees the new fashions, and as usual the best gowned women of the capital are following the conservative wing of Dame Fashion, who has not been entirely successful in banishing the skirt nine inches from the floor—from street or drawing room.

MADAME RIANO, wife of the Spanish Ambassador, and Mrs. Breckenridge Long, wife of the assistant Secretary of State, who were among the notably smart ma-sons at the Larz Anderson's dance, wore gowns to the ankles. Madame Riano's was a creation of black net with the radium variety, which is draped, or rather hung, in very graceful lines suited to its youthful wearer.

Mrs. Chandler Anderson of New York and Washington was another who wore a gown to the ankles. Her gown was a creation of black net with the radium variety, which is draped, or rather hung, in very graceful lines suited to its youthful wearer.

Mrs. William Crozier, wife of the former Chief of Ordnance and for years guardian of one of the best gowned and hand-mest of Washington leaders, wore an entertaining the Countess of Lading at a farewell luncheon at the Chevy Chase Club, a gown in the silhouettes but with the skirt cut four inches from the floor. It was a one-piece, closely-fitted model, with Mrs. Crozier wears habitual-ly with its embellishment in small embroidered figures in Roman flower-bodice was cut surplice and the sleeves, which were heavily embro-ided, were plain and ended midway wrist and elbow. Mrs. Cro-zier topped this with a hat of blue velvet.

MRS. EDWARD ALEXANDER MITCHELL, formerly Miss Eleanor Gordon Kintzle of Arlington, Va., whose husband, Lieut. Mitchell, took place April 1, made a delightful impression on a few friends of her husband's who met this young couple en route to Charleston (Mass.) navy yard, where the bridegroom reported for duty 48 hours after the wedding ceremony. Mrs. Mitchell's traveling dress, also presumably her wedding dress, was a dark blue tulle-trimmed gown with box coat and very coming toque of taupe straw trimmed in two well pointed wings.

MRS. JOSEPH HAMPSHIRE is wearing a smartly made blue tulle gown which had as its background the new Poch blue with close covering of small white fig-ures, making this one of the choicest dresses of the season. The skirt is edged with long collar of embro-ided organdie and the cuffs to match. The sleeves are the new width, just above the wrist, and not tied to the arm. Mrs. Hampshire is a round, ruddy-faced woman, dimmed in spring blossoms and fol-owed by a small, dark, curly-haired maid.

Finian Haddie is simply haddock in white, originally cured at Findin-gland, in peat smoke.

TWO INTERESTING SCHOOLS

Japanese Nurse Girls, With Babies on Backs, the Pupils.

By ERNEST W. CLEMENT.

TOKYO, Japan, April 10.—Imag-ine Japanese nurse maids at- tending school with their mas- ters' babies on their backs! There are two schools in Japan where such in- teresting sights may be seen: One in Takasaki in Gumma prefecture, and one in Nagano City. These schools are both run under the name of "Komon-gakko," or nursemaid's school. They do not charge any tu- tion fees and lend out all textbooks and stationery used by the pupils.

In the Takasaki school the babies who cry during the lessons of their "big sisters" are taken into the school corridor and placed under the care of special nurses, "who soothe them." The "lessons" com- prise morals, Japanese arithmetic, singing, handcraft and sewing. And every student is taught to take good care of babies; to be their best friends; not to tell a lie; not to sear- ter things about; to use few and kind words; to do all things with care; to try not to be worried twice about the same matter.

The utmost care is taken by each school that the babies are not vul- gar. Only such songs are chosen as are good and would please the chil- dren. The nurses who take good care of their charges are often given prizes. Athletic meets and dialogues are among the annual events of the schools. In January and July the graduates gather at the schools and have a good time for a whole day.

And it is not rare to find among these old school friends beautiful wives of respectable gentlemen. And they may be carrying their own babies on their backs!

1. When the little ones cannot get what they want they cry violently. In such cases nurses should soothe them quietly.

2. When babies feel sleepy they yawn and cry. In this case nurses are required to pat the little ones gently on their heads and backs.

3. When hungry babies utter plaintive cries without tears. In such cases mother's milk should be given at once.

4. When their teeth or ears ache babies fret and cry. In such a case it is better to consult a doctor.

5. When babies have stomach ache their cries are continuous and they draw up their feet. Their cries are uttered with force. To relieve their pains medicine or a doctor is recommended.

6. When something is wrong with any part of the body the cry will be different, according to the part where the trouble is. In such cases careful attention must not be neglected.

Reflections of a Bachelor Girl.

By Helen Rowland.

TWENTY pounds of superfluous avoiddups will do more to kill romance than the breaking of the Ten Commandments.

After the wild hazards and hair- breadth escapes of bachelor days, marriage must seem to the average man like a game of penny ante after a winter at Monte Carlo.

"Most people," says Harry Gaze, "picture heaven as a place of divine sloth, where all the mornings are Sunday mornings and every night is Saturday night."

Beauty may be "only skin deep," but in these days of sylphlike proportions it goes clear to the bone.

No man expects to find heaven in matrimony, but some of them do seem to expect to get the earth, don't they?

Love is the fairy spell which trans- forms a bald spot into a halo, glides broomsticks into pearls of thought and cheap jokes into diamonds of wit and enables a girl to make a hero out of a wax dummy, a poet out of a coal heater and a Prince Charming out of a mummy!

Alas! all that some men seem to know about the beautiful things of life is how to make the money that buys them!

It isn't the storms on the Sea of Matrimony that wreck the Love ship—it's the dead, monotonous calms.

Oh, well, LET them put the lux- ury tax on ice cream soda—most of us can "take it or leave it alone!"

How to Grow Spinach

SPINACH thrives under rather cool climatic conditions, and may be grown as a fall-planted winter crop throughout the South. In the middle section of the country it is necessary to mulch the spinach plants with straw or leaves to protect them from the cold. In the Northern States spinach may be planted just as early as the ground can be worked and the crop gathered before the heat of summer comes on.

Spinach may be planted in the spaces between other plants. One ounce of seed will sow at least 100 feet of row.

Spinach is easily grown, and there is perhaps no other crop of its kind that will give as much satisfaction. Spinach greens are very desirable as a spring vegetable.—United States Department of Agriculture.

In Life, in Death—More Pep.

It was a death-bed scene, but the director was not satisfied with the hero's acting.

"Come on!" he cried. "Put more life in your dying!"—Film Fun.

Dictaphone Calls Mother When Baby Cries

A DICTAPHONE with a mega- phone and a loud-speaking am- plifier in the receiver, is shown in the Popular Mechanics Magazine.

With the receiver fastened to the baby's crib in the nursery upstairs, and the megaphone placed in the parlor below, the arrangement works to every one's satisfaction. Mother may go about her housework, while baby will sleep soundly, undisturbed by the noise of the living room, but if he should waken, his cries will be instantly heard downstairs.

He Got Off Another.

"I understand you get off some very good things occasionally," said the sweet young thing at the swell reception.

"Well, they say I do," replied the man with the monocle.

"But it takes you considerable time to do it."

"You mean I am verbose?"

"Not exactly that; but you've been standing on the train of my dress for 10 minutes."—Yonkers Statesman.

A Woman's Age

By DOROTHY DIX.

A MAN writes me that he has made a terrible discovery of his wife's stupidity. He is found out that she is two years older than she declared herself to be in their marriage certificate, and he is horri- bly shocked at this revelation of her perfidy, and he wants to know if she can be trusted, and if a woman who deceives her husband about her age won't deceive him about other things.

Nonsense. Every woman tells tar- riddles about her age. A woman who would be burnt at the stake for the sake of truth lets go all hold on veracity when it comes to a matter of her birthdays, and Diogenes in search of an honest man had an easy task compared with the gentleman who starts out on a still hunt for a wife who does not jiggle with the number of years that have passed over her head.

Therefore because a woman yawns about her age is no sign that she is not truthful Jane, and that the bal- ance of her life is not an open book. It is merely that women consider that their age is a private matter with which no one else has any con- cern, and they reserve to themselves the right to be any age that they please.

ND, after all, what does it mat- ter what age a woman looks if she looks good to a man? Age isn't a matter of years. It is a ques- tion of health, of mind, of spirit, of soul. There are people who are 73 years old in the cradle, and there are others who are debutantes at 70.

A woman who is narrow-minded and "set" in her ways, who thinks her own little point of view the only possible way to look at a subject, who is sure that everything and every- body is wrong who differs from her; who has no enthusiasm and no inter- est outside of her own affairs and her small circle, is old no matter whether she is 14 or 60.

On the contrary, the woman who is vitally alive; who is interested in every new thing under the sun, whose sympathies are as wide as the world, and who is continually grow- ing and broadening in character is young even when she becomes an octogenarian.

Women know this. They also know that instead of age being a woman's deadliest enemy it is often her most beneficial friend, and endows her with charms and graces, and even with looks that she never had in her youth, and they would like to in- dulse themselves in the precious privilege of frankly being as old as they are, if men would only permit them to do so. But they won't, per- sistent that only youth is attrac- tive in the feminine sex, and that a woman may as well be dead as to be 60.

This is a silly theory that experi- ence contradicts at every turn. It is only the most rapid and brainless of women who are at their best in their teens. A girl who has no more sense than a kitten and who is lithe, and slim, and glossy of hair, and jumps about like a kitten, may have her little hour of charm in her kit- tenhood, but the kitten type of woman is the lowest ideal of the feminine sex.

THE real woman, and the wom- an worth marrying, is the one who has intelligence, heart and soul, and it takes time for these to ripen and develop. The woman who reads, studies and thinks grows more and more interesting year by year. The woman with a heart and soul becomes more lovable as experi- ence broadens and mellows her, and to compare such a woman to a crude ignorant girl is to compare new wine to old.

Nor is the young girl invariably the better looking. There are women who were plain and homely in their youth whose features life chis- els into beauty. There are other women who become lovely through sheer beauty of spirit, and there are still other women who only needed the dignity and background of their own homes to turn them from awk- ward, gawky girls into magnificent grande dames.

Therefore women have no need to fear age, or to lie about it, and they would not do so except that men still sing the praises of sweet 16, and expect women to cover the wisdom and experience and self-control of maturity with the camouflage of ex- treme youth.

That is why a clever woman al- ways says she is 23—and sticks to it for the next 20 years.

Browns Crippled With 3 Regulars on Hospital List

Severid, Sotheron and Williams Will Be Out of Battle Front for Some Time.

SHOCKER PITCHES WELL

Right-Hander Held Jennings' Men to One Earned Run in 6 Innings Yesterday.

With the Browns going none too good at the present time, the club has been further crippled by the injury to three of the main cogs of the Burke machine. The tossers at present on the hospital list are Hank Severid, Allan Sotheron and Kenneth Williams. Of the trio, Severid is the most seriously injured.

The ailments of the trio are as follows:

Severid, spiked above knee in yesterday's game with the Browns, will be out for two weeks.

Sotheron split finger, probably out 10 days.

Williams twisted knee, suffered sliding into second in Saturday's game. Extent of injury not determined.

Despite the fact that he did not make the training trip with the club, Severid was the Browns' regular catcher. He was hitting the ball in good style and also fielding well. His injury came in the sixth inning of yesterday's game, when he was sliding into second on Al Smith's single to left.

Jackson to Play Center. With Severid out, Josh Billings and Walter Mayer will do all the receiving for the club. Both of them are good players, but cannot hit with Severid.

With Williams out of the game, Bill Jacobson will do duty in center field. Williams played great ball for Burke, his fielding being especially noteworthy. He also was one of the club's leading pinch hitters.

Sotheron departed yesterday to spend several days at his home in Ohio. Despite a poor winning record, he has been pitching good ball, all three of his defeats coming by close scores.

A Few Bright Spots Left. Despite the fact that the Browns lost both games to the Tigers, the second yesterday by a 6-2 score, there were at least two bright spots in the series.

In short, you can imagine a large number of persons submitting regularly to being totally and completely hoaxed without lifting a finger or a voice.

Yet such has happened in the boxing game not once, but on several occasions. On April 28 at Akron, O., Willie Loughlin was hoaxed by Johnny Griffith.

Loughlin should not appear so often. He permitted five hits and passed only two batters. It was Shocker's first game since his return from France. He had a good breaking curve and speed.

With Shocker and Williams in line, the Browns' pitching staff greatly improved. From now on Shocker is sure to take his regular turn with Williams. Day after day, when the latter recovers from his injury.

Opposed to Shocker yesterday was Willie Mitchell, southpaw, who also was making his initial appearance since returning from France. The southpaw was removed from the line because of wildness. During his stay on hurling him, he permitted only two hits. However, he walked seven, hit another and uncorked a wild pitch. Kallio, who replaced him, also gave two bingles.

By Cobb Outdoes Siler. Tyrus Cobb had all the better of George Siler in their first meeting of the season. In the two games, Cobb made four hits in nine trips to the plate for an average of .444.

While Siler managed only one, a mark of .142. Cobb had three hits yesterday, one to each field, while he scored two runs. He also stole his first base of the season in the ninth, but was cut down trying to pilfer third.

Siler at present is in the throes of a batting slump, and is hitting far below his regular stride. However, he is putting up a sensational fielding game.

Bill James About Through. Bill James, for whom the Tigers paid the Browns $12,000 a few years ago, is about through with Jennings' club. According to a Detroit scribe, who was here with the Juncos, this has been admitted by both Navin and Jennings. If he is not wanted by any major league club he probably will go to Portland, Ore. The big right-hander has lost his confidence.

Cobb Still Drains Them. Ty Cobb is still the best drawing card in baseball. Yesterday's game was attended by about 12,000 persons, the best local crowd since the opening game with the White Sox.

Professional and Amateur Stars Open Ridgedale Play

Local Leaders in Both Divisions Drove Off This Morning in Start of First Interclub Feature of the Season on the Old Glen Echo Links.

At 9 o'clock this morning, R. M. Nelson of the Bellerive Country Club and Elmer Harrison, assistant professional at the Westwood Country Club, left for No. 1 of the Ridgedale course and the first interclub open golf competition of the season was on.

The occasion was the invitation tournament for local professionals and the better amateur players of the city. The tourney provides for the first opportunity in many seasons for amateurs and professionals of St. Louis clubs to meet.

Four minutes after the departure of Nelson and Harrison, Eddie Limberg, Triple A and former St. Louis District champion, started the medal play round, with J. C. Fairman, Normandy "Pro."

There are 48 entrants in the play, the last pair having taken to the course at 10:16 a. m. The match which apparently aroused the greatest interest and was followed by the largest gallery was that between Chris Kenney, former state and city champion, and Jim Barnes, Sunset professional and western open champion. Barnes and Kenney left at 9:44 o'clock.

Tournaments Arranged for Afternoon. Another round of the course will be played this afternoon. The two amateurs and two professionals having low scores will be teamed in a foursome. This plan will be carried out in all afternoon pairings.

The awards will be based on the total medal scores for the 36 holes of play. Prizes of $75, $50 and $25 have been offered.

Rosen Wins Westwood Title. Just as had been expected, Louis Rosen held his laurels as Westwood's best golf player, yesterday afternoon. Rosen defeated Eddie Lewis, 7 up and 6, in the final round.

Deuchler Jumped Into Lake. When P. M. Deuchler jumped in a lake at Midland Valley Country Club, yesterday afternoon, there are some who think he was trying to win an election bet. Others perceive that he had been picking a bad horse to bet on.

Deuchler turned in high score in a five-hole at the Midland Valley course. L. C. Smith, Eugene Bergs, Eugene Metheny and J. M. Smith were the other participants in the freak match.

WRAY'S COLUMN

Let's De-cootie the Fight Game. If a grocer sold you a dozen eggs and substituted door knobs, what would you do?

If you paid $3 to see Forbes-Robertson and he turned out to be a "ham," what would you say?

If a crowd of 3000 persons paid $9000 and heard a barroom tenor, instead of the advertised Caruso, how much would be left of the building?

Big in Name Only. THE situation requires either a thorough delousing of an exhibition of real activity on the part of the newly established Army, Navy and Civilian Boxing Control Board. Whether this organization is to be a real Big Name, or just a high sounding nonentity we will be able to judge by noting what happens to the cooties that infest some crannies of the country.

It is unfortunate that the Legislature of Missouri, by its refusal to pass the Brogan bill, has made this city and this State a prey to these traveling pests, who occasionally creep into the community, sting it and make their getaway unharmed.

With a boxing commission perhaps we might have kept them at bay.

It's All Wrong, Ban. WHILE Byron Bancroft Johnson is straightening out baseball rule kinks, he might extend his researches and add other corrections to those alterations announced earlier this week.

Generally speaking, rules are harder to change than a Confederate bill or an office holder's politics.

Mistakes in the code are cherished in loving veneration by the Rules Committee, the feeling that it is best to let well enough alone is strong and the desire to change conditions may be expressed by the coefficient 6 raised to the Nth power.

A few exceptions to this exist, but none are recent. Perhaps the four-strike rule is the most notable. There exist today several minor discrepancies that could be altered to the great advantage of those who study the game minutely.

Cincinnati Pitcher Allows Three Bases on Balls, Two in Succession.

RICKEY IN NEW YORK

Conference on With McGraw and Griffith Concerning Johnny Lavan.

CINCINNATI, May 12.—Branch Rickey's badly battered baseball aggregation departed last night for Boston, where the team opens a four-game series in the East.

Their getaway from Cincinnati took place under conditions which would have depressed a morgue keeper or the superintendent of a home for hypochondriacs.

Hod Eller hung the pall on the depressed visiting athletes by draping a necklace of goose eggs about them. The Cincinnati pitcher, scoring the first no-hit game of the season, had the Cardinals as helpless as a turtle on its back. At bat they clawed the air about as futilely.

Three men of the St. Louis squad reached first by means of passes, one reaching second when two of the transportations came in succession. Otherwise the visiting attack was as supine as a box containing full of spring lamb.

Cards Bitten in Clusters. Jake May pitched fair ball for the Cardinals for a time, but his teammates helped make him wild—and this goes double, for he gave six passes. Added to eight safe hits and heinous offenses to the number of three official and several of the non-scoring kind, the undoing of the St. Louis players, however, was the heavy rain and an abundance of the Cardinals came in clusters, two runs in the fourth and four in the fifth.

Lavan Deal Still On. Rickey, as usual, left the Sunday management of the team to Jack Miller. Branch is in New York conferring with Griffith and McGraw in the endeavor to complete the deal for John Lavan, with Robertson and Gonzales as the other pawns. What Rickey wants to do with Lavan has mystified local fans, since his infirmity is now supposed to be a stone wall affair—or will be when it has gained its footing.

Players Deny Disturbing Rickey. A feature of the day's developments was a statement issued by the St. Louis players, which declared that Manager Jack Miller, in which was set forth a from-the-heart denial of the suggestion that they were under the thumb of the manager.

The statement declared the club individually and collectively was heart and soul for the manager and that they were not doing only as they were told, but that they were working counter to him.

CHICAGO GOLFER WHO SET COURSE RECORD IN SUNSET FEATURE

National and Open Champion Told Bob McDonald He Would Come.

EASTERN STARS DEFEATED

Jim Barnes and Chicago Professional Beat Rivals 7 Up and 6 to Play.

By CLARENCE L. WOLFE, City Golf Champion.

"Chick" Evans, amateur and open champion golfer, will enter the Western Championship tournament at Sunset Hill Country Club, after all, according to Bob McDonald, the New Evanston Club professional, who played here yesterday.

McDonald commented that before he left Chicago Evans said to him: "Tell all my St. Louis friends I'll be there for the Western Championship sure."

Two weeks ago Evans was quoted in a Chicago newspaper as saying that he could not compete here and that he had a Canadian Red Cross engagement for a similar date.

McDonald in Fine Form. McDonald, a brown-faced, careful six-footer, who this year is golf professional at the New Evanston Country Club, Chicago, made the most favorable impression on the large gallery that followed the morning and afternoon play in yesterday's best-ball foursome exhibition match at Sunset Hill Country Club. Paired with Jim Barnes, McDonald opposed Aleck Smith of Wykaght and Gil Nichols of New York.

McDonald's driving was equal to that of Barnes and a recent announcement of the Eastern players was that they had just got off the train and were not fit. They had spent the previous day at the Louisville Derby.

The poor display on the part of the visiting players was the more outstanding owing to a recent announcement made that they were willing to oppose any professionals in the country in a match for $500 a side.

The course was in splendid condition, considering the season of the year, and will unquestionably be in the hands of the professionals in the Western open championship, June 16. The many changes wrought in the links since last season have caused surprise at the advanced condition of the fairways and greens.

The scores: Morning Round. Barnes 35 37-73. McDonald 35 36-71. Nichols 42 38-80. Smith 39 40-79.

Afternoon Round. Barnes 39 37-76-148. McDonald 37 39 76-117. Nichols 42 38-80. Smith 39 40-79.

McDonald also won a $50 prize for his morning round of 71, a course record. It was the first time this course has been attained under regular match play conditions.

Smith a Rapid Fire Player. One feature of yesterday's play which caused much comment was the style of Aleck Smith, especially on the green. Throughout the day the gallery was ready to declare that he was criminally careless in his play. He wasted no time whatever in sizing up the play, but stepped into position, swung his putter with out preliminary motions, for all the world as though he didn't care what happened behind him.

After the match it developed that Smith has never played any other way. His accuracy, despite his quick shooting, was marvelous, even though he was below his best form.

Browns Play White Sox. The Browns departed last night for Chicago, where they play the White Sox today and tomorrow. The clubs are postponed battles from earlier in the month. Gallia will likely oppose the leaders today.

CORP. PEYTON TAKES RIFLE CHAMPIONSHIP. LE MANS, France, May 12.—Corp. Leland A. Peyton, Fifth Marines, of South Pasadena, Cal., last Saturday won the rifle championship of the American expeditionary force on the D-Avours range, with a score of 550 out of a possible 600.

Second prize went to Sergt. Jonas F. Waters, Thirtieth Marines, of Austin, Ind., with a score of 548.

Corp. Peyton is 22 years old and this was his first competition. He joined the service about two years ago and shot his way to fame over 1200 picked marksmen, some of whom had rated among the best shots in the world.

Sergt. Waters came into the service in the spring of 1917 and previously had shot in several smaller matches.

SPORT SALAD BY L. C. Davis

Jobs for Soldiers. OH the boys are here. And we have a cheer. And they're had enough. Of the hero stuff. And they want a situation.

It is very well. To stand up and yell. And it gives the boys enjoyment. But it's over now. And to earn their chow. They will have to have employment.

The parade was fine. With the lads in line. As the drums beat out a gay roll. They were filled with glee. But they yearn to see. Their names upon some payroll.

If a job is sought. By a lad who fought. Find a place where you can use him. For the public eye. Who would heartlessly refuse him.

A Clean Docket. HEAR ye, hear ye, hear ye! The Court of Honor of the City of St. Louis will now adjourn until the case of the World vs. Wilhelm Hohenzollern is ready for trial.

The Sandman Story
for Tonight

By Mrs. F. A. Walker.

The Toys and the Fairy Queen.

I EXPECT that all you little folk have wondered many times how the power to speak when the hour of 12 struck each night.

It has been said it all came from a Goblin who overheard the fairies talking one night, and he told a Gnome, who told an Elf, who told a Sprite, and he told—but what matters that? What you want to hear is the story, so here it is just as I heard it once upon a time:

A Little Fairy was at the top of a tree looking at the toys and fitting about among them, thinking it quite the most fascinating land she had ever visited.

Now, when it was time for her to go—that is, when the sun came up over the hill—instead of going right home and going to bed, as all good little fairies are expected to do, this one lingered in a shady place in the dell.

When all the sister fairies came along she stopped them and told about the wonders of the Land she had found.

Not a wink of sleep did any of those little fairies get that day, so eager were they to go with their sister to this Land she had discovered.

Just as soon as it was the magic hour off they all filtered without the Fairy Queen having to say one word about it being time to go to their work.

"Strange," said the Queen. "I never knew my children to be so eager to start before. I almost think there must be something going on which I do not understand, and I believe I will watch them if this happens again."

Such a good time as all the fairies had that night in the playroom, but not a stroke of work did they do. There were no hungry children surprised with a magic table appearing before them laden with goodies, or a warm fire suddenly flaming up the fireplace of the poor old woman who was cold and hungry. No, these little fairies thought of nothing but play.

They went home and into their beds they all tumbled without even taking a drop of dew for breakfast, they were so tired.

The Queen looked at them all asleep and shook her head. "I will find out tonight," she said, and she did, for she followed those little fairies straight to the playroom and found out how they had shirked their work.

Oh! How ashamed they looked when the Queen made herself seen. But she did not scold; instead, she told them all to flitter away as fast as they could to their work.

Then she turned to the toys, and one by one she touched them with her wand, saying:

"At the Magic Hour of Twelve each night you shall talk till it is light."

Of course, the little fairies went again, when they found a chance, to the playroom; but, to their surprise, they found the toys all talking, and where there is talking and noise, fairies seldom stay unless the Queen has sent them to do some good work. So off they all flew, and after that every night they went to their work as they should, while the toys have ever since that time had the power to talk after 12, though I doubt very much if one of them knows just how it came about.

His Anxiety.

CANON CURETON was to preach at the Abbey on a certain saint's day when the boys of Westminster School attended service and afterward had the rest of the day as a holiday. Mr. Cureton was looking over his sermon when his son asked anxiously, "Father, is your sermon long?"

"No, Jimmy; not very long."

"But how long?"

"Well, about 20 minutes, I should say. But why?"

"Because the boys said they would thrash me if you were more than half an hour."—Public Ledger.

Willings to Suffer.

I F you had a million dollars it would worry you to death," said the seedy philosopher.

"That's the kind of trouble I'm looking for," replied the mercenary man.—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Not a Question of Height.

WHEN Lawrence Orr, of the State Board of Accounts, was serving as a paid examiner he went to Jackson county to check up the records in the various departments of the courthouse. He was acquainted with most of the county officials, but since his last visit Simon L. Henderson had become recorder. Mr. Henderson is an unusually large man, standing more than six feet.

When Mr. Orr was introduced to Mr. Henderson he glanced up to his towering height and remarked: "Goodness, Mr. Henderson, you are a tall man. How tall are you, anyway?"

To which Mr. Henderson replied: "In this particular case, Mr. Orr, it is not a question of how tall I am, but how short I am."

Mr. Henderson's books checked up to the penny.—Indianapolis News.
